DECREE.

THE Supreme Government of the Republic of Nicaragua, to encourage the immigration of persons of thrift and industry to become settlers and inhabitants within its territorial limits, to the end that its resources may be more fully developed and its commerce increased, and to promote the general welfare of the State, has decreed:

SPECULATIONS ON NICARAGUA.

The Leader, published at Oakland, California, contains the following leading editorial, which contrasts so favorably with the comments of some of the opposition Press, that we take pleasure in adding to its circulation. California has been so long the subject of misrepresentation by ignorant writers, that her own editors have caught the infection; and instead of learning a lesson from their own bitter fortune, have affected the disease, and now spread the leprosy of their abuse on affairs and actions which they are incapable of understanding. It is a singular infirmity to be abusive, but as some men are so, we presume they are necessary evils, and accept them as chasteners to our good. The members of the army will read with pleasure the defence which their distant friends are making in behalf of a mission which redeems to peace and prosperity the distracted republics of Central America. We are not misunderstood at home, and should the future conduct of the army equal its past and present, we shall not wait for another generation to declare the benidicence of Gen. Walker's enterprise in Nicaragua.

Wm. Walker is the Government of Nicaragua as Santa Anna has been the government of Mexico, as Louis Napoleon is the government of France.

He holds not his power by the hereditary sanction of the divine right of kings, but by the more modern and substantial tenure of conquest and force of arms. His is not the vain ambition of lording it over the narrow territory and native population of Nicaragua. Central America may limit his aspirations—a federal government composed of independent, sovereign states, with a system of laws similar to our own, and a population invited from all quarters of the world, to give force, dignity, and character to his government, and infuse somewhat of enterprise into the present effeminate native population must be his ultimate hope.

Who shall say that an honest effort to raise in this most fruitful and lovely portion of our continent an Empire worthy of rivalry with our own, and infusing into the breasts of its present degraded population a national ambition, is not worthy of some commendation.

If the future shall determine that Central America is advanced in the rank of nations—its inhabitants elevated in the scale of humanity—their laws improved and well administered—the arts and sciences advanced—the unbounded resources of its mines, soil, and forest developed—its agriculture encouraged and its commerce extended. If, in time, all this shall have been accomplished by the genius, courage and perseverance of William Walker, who then shall say that he has performed a good act to the world and advanced the true interests of humanity. What though the means be somewhat out of the ordinary course—what though all the fusty rules of international law be not strictly followed—what though Walker be not a Central American by birth. Posterity will judge of his motives by his acts. His future fame will depend upon his present success.

CHEERING LETTER FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10, 1856.

The recent farcical attempt of the President and his New York satellites to seize and detain the passengers by the steamer Northern Light, on the alleged ground of their being engaged in a filibustering attempt against Nicaragua, has but served to turn public attention that way, and give publicity to the fact that the government of that country has invited emigration, and offers inducements of no ordinary character to those desirous of improving their condition in life. The consequence has been that large numbers of men, particularly in the southern section of the United States, are desirous of all the information they can receive on the subject, and are preparing to seek a new home in the plains and valleys of Nicaragua. Many arrive here every day, and personal observation has convinced me that they are of a class which any State may be proud to number among her citizens. Some of them possess means of their own, while others, although not rich in the world's eye, yet have a wealth of stout hearts and strong arms, which will soon develop the resources of the country and gather round their homesteads all the comforts and even the luxuries of life. These men go to work. They are not deluded with the idea that they can go into a new country and become rich by folding their arms and lolling in idle ease. They know that there is a mine of wealth in the almost virgin soil of Nicaragua, which is offered to them on such easy terms; and they have the courage to defend what they may acquire.

I consider it necessary that you should have an agent at this point to explain to inquirers the nature of the country, and give them such other information as they may require. The only work which gives anything like definition about Nicaragua is that of Mr. Squiers, and the expensive character of the book places it out of the reach of many of the emigrants.

Besides, they wish to know the position of the government, and whether the present state of things is likely to be permanent. This is the principal topic of inquiry with them at present, and some person who is well posted in this matter should be stationed here. The prevailing opinion here is, that the Government of Nicaragua is now on a more solid basis than it has been since the people threw off the Spanish yoke. Gen. Walker has force enough to repress any attempt at revolt by the disappointed chiefs of the old parties who have previously devastated the country; and his firmness and stern sense of justice, as exhibited in the cases of Corral and others, give evidence that he is not to be trifled with. And if more force should be needed for this purpose, where could be found better soldiers than the hardy emigrants whom the government will have invited to the country, and who would fly to arms with alacrity to defend their newly acquired possessions?

You may be tolerably certain of a large emigration from this port to your country. Many will go who are doubtless actuated merely by a wild spirit of adventure and the desire to visit foreign countries, but the majority will be men of family, who are actuated by the desire to acquire for themselves a home where they may spend the remainder of their lives and rear their children in comfort. Orleans is comparatively free from that pest of all great cities, a lepero population, which is ever ready to embark in any wild or lawless scheme which promises profit and license. The emigrants from this port are not, therefore, like

FROM SQUIER'S NEW WORK.

Beyond Masaya our road led through a broad and beautiful avenue lined on both sides by luxuriant fields, which extend to the pueblo of Nindiri. It was thronged with mules, men, women, and children, all bearing fruits, provisions, or other articles of sale, on their way to the markets of Masaya and Granada; for the Indian thinks nothing of carrying his load, worth perhaps a half a dollar, to the distance of twenty miles or further.

Nindiri itself is one of the loveliest spots on earth. Oranges, plantains, maranons, nisperos, mameys and tall palms, with their variously colored fruits, blushing brown or golden among the leaves and here and there a low calabash tree, with its green globes strung on every limb; all these clustering together, literally embowered the picturesque cane huts of simple minded and industrious inhabitants. Indian women, naked to the waist, sat beneath the trees spinning snow white cotton or the fibre of the agave, while their noisy, naked little ones tumbled joyously about on the smoothly beaten ground, where the sunlight fell in flickering, shifting mazes as the winds beat the branches with their unseen fingers. Primitive Nindiri! seat of the ancient Caziques and their barbarous courts—even now, amidst the din of the crowded city, and the crush and conflict of struggling thousands, amidst grasping avarice and importunate penury, bold-fronted hypocrisy and heartless fashion; where virtue is modest and vice is brazen, where fire, and water, and the very lightnings of heaven, are the slaves of human will—how turns my memory to thee, as to some sweet vision of the night, some dreamy Arcadia, fancy-born and half unreal!

After leaving Nindiri, we began to ascend one of the slopes or spurs of the volcano of Masaya, passing over disintegrated lava and pumice, now converted into soil, and sustaining a luxuriant growth of trees. At the distance of about a league, we reached what is called the mal país, literally "bad country." This is an immense field of lava, which, at the last eruption, flowed down the sides of the volcano, for a distance of many miles, in the direction of Lake Managua. Where the road crosses the field it is narrowest, but on both sides it spreads out over a wide area. It can only be compared to a vast plain of cast iron just cooled, or to an ocean of ink suddenly congealed during a storm. In places the lava is rolled up, flake on flake, like ice in the spring time on the banks of our northern rivers. Here and there broad ragged sheets had been turned completely over as it cooled on the surface, while the molten current flowed below, exposing a regularly striated face, resembling the curling fibres of the oak or maple. Not a tree intervened between us and the volcano, only a broad, black, and rugged waste of lava.

I dismounted and scrambled out upon the crinkling masses, but did not go far, for the sharp edges and points cut through my boots like knives. At one place I observed where the half-cooled lava had wrapped itself, layer on layer, around a large tree, which, subsequently burning out or decaying, had left a perfect cast of its trunk and principal branches in the solid lava.

As I have said, the volcano of Masaya is broad and low, and bears unmistakable signs of recent activity. Its last eruption, at which time the vast lava field which I have described, was formed, took place in no longer made her appearance. I asked him how she looked, and he said she was old and wrinkled; that her breasts hung down over her belly; that her hair was thin and erect; that her teeth were long and sharp as a dog's; her skin darker than that of the Indians; her eyes sunken and fiery—in short, he described her as like the devil, who, in truth, she must have been!"

From the open lava fields the road to Managua passes over an undulating country, with occasional savannas, dotted with clumps of trees, between which we caught glimpses of the distant lakes and mountains. For many miles scoria and disintegrated lava showed the extent of the action of the volcano in ancient times. The road for most of the distance, is shadowed over by trees, and is broad and smooth.—We traveled it rapidly and merrily, occasionally rousing a troop of monkeys reposing among the tree tops or trying a shot with our revolvers at the wild turkeys which thronged the woods in every direction. The Doctor disappointed us all, and cheated us out of a luscious supper by firing at a temptingly plump wild pig with the wrong barrel of his gun—merely peppering the little fellow's hams with bird shot, instead of killing him outright with a bullet.

We reached Managua just as the bells of the churches were sounding the hour of the oracón, and halted, with uncovered heads beneath the shadow of a heavily-loaded tamarind tree until the last sound trembled away and was lost in the air. By those easy and appropriate deferences to the customs of the country, and the feelings of the people, we always commanded their sympathy and good-will, and avoided many of those unpleasant occurrences which, magnified into "Outrages on American citizens!" figure, in all the blazonry of capitals, in the columns of our daily newspapers.

ANTIQUITY OF FILIBUSTERISM.

It seems that a great deal of unnecessary comment has been made by the leading journals of the United States on the course and policy of the present government of Nicaragua. Its founders, particularly, seem to come in for an unlimited share of abuse.—The man and men who have voluntarily enlisted in the redemption of a lost and degraded people, who are hailed by the redeemed as their saviours,—who are already rapidly progressing the various interests of the country, and the feelings of the people, we always commanded their sympathy and good-will, and avoided many of those unpleasant occurrences which, magnified into "Outrages on American citizens!" figure, in all the blazonry of capitals, in the columns of our daily newspapers.

Was it the native Saxon or the filibustering Norman who instilled vigor and energy into the English nation. England reposed in barbarism, scarcely known in Europe, until invaded by the Norman adventurers, led by such men as him who to-day leads their descendants in Central America. Was it the primitive occupier or the filibustering Corinthian who brought to the green shores of Erin, the arts and sciences? It was the adventurer. Who shed such renown and glory on the Spanish arms three centuries back? The descendants of adventurers. Who was the Athenian, the Roman, the Spartan? Adventurers, all. The Sabine mother was proud to boast of her filibustering lineage; and so was the Sicilian, the Sardinian, the Venetian, in days of yore. Who rais-

Arctic expedition in search of Sir John Franklin show a larger range of discovery than had been anticipated from the preliminary report. Many have been exhibited to the Secretary of the Navy, and subjected to the National Observatory and Coast Survey. Dr. Kane has evidently material in reserve. The area of the open sea, by a careful revision of the work, has been found to exceed four thousand miles, or more than one thousand in excess of the original estimate. This large body was absolutely and entirely free from ice. The scientific materials of the expedition will be published under the direct charge of Dr. Kane, who has been detailed for that duty by the Navy Department. The Smithsonian Institution and Coast Survey have both volunteered their aid in furtherance of the object.

AFFAIR OF HONOR.—A most extraordinary duel recently fought in Paris by a Mr. Schull, an author and another writer who felt offended at some passage in a late work of the former. Both parties fought like furies. Mr. Schull received three wounds one cutting his right arm to the bone; and his adversary was wounded once in the throat, and severely wounded in the breast. At the last pass the sword fell from M. Schull's hand. Completely disarmed he parried a fourth blow with his shoulder, and was about receiving a fifth wound, when his adversary fell exhausted. Thereupon his adversary's second ran up to Mr. Schull who was lying on the ground, disarmed, bleeding, and incapable of defending himself, and thrashed him with his cane!

¶ A curious point of law has just been decided by a county court judge at Exeter, England. The question was whether an inhabitant of a town was at liberty to keep animals whose noise proved a serious annoyance to their neighbors. It was shown on the part of a Mr. Abraham that his neighbor, Mr. Minty, had a cock which crowed 150 times in 25 minutes. The learned judge thought this was an amount of crowing which human nature was not bound to put up with, and awarded to the plaintiff one shilling damages.

THE FALL OF THE TOURNIQUET!—Every one will recollect the Tourniquet, or turnstile, placed at the entrance of the Paris Exhibition, to count, independently of every one but the person who carried the key of the instrument, each person who enters.—Well, what use do you suppose is to be made of the Tourniquet, now that its legitimate occupation is gone. A jealous husband has bought it to place at his wife's door when he goes out!

A WOMAN SWIMMING THE MISSISSIPPI.—Lloyd's forthcoming Steamboat Directory gives a thrilling instance of the importance to women of knowing how to swim. When the ill-fated "Ben Sherrod" was in flames on the Mississippi river, and the lady passengers who had thrown themselves into the water were drowning around the boat, the wife of Capt. Castleman jumped into the river, with her infant in her arms, and swam ashore, a distance of half a mile, being the only woman saved out of sixteen. She had learned to swim when a girl.

A SPANIARD'S VIEW OF THE CRIMEAN WAR.—Espartero has lately declared that all Europe must be drawn into the war before it be settled. But Spain is a Latin nation, and if the war goes on, she will certainly take part in it on the side of France and England. I incline to think that the war will become general in the spring. Should events compel Spain to draw the sword in this quarrel, you may be assured that the manner of her doing so will be such as to sustain the old Castilian glory, and that she will not accept a ship, a man, or a crown piece from any power in the world."

YOUNG BONAPARTE.—Marshal Pelissier has recently conferred on young Lieut. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, formerly of Baltimore, the decoration of the Legion of Honor, "for great zeal and activity in the performance of his duties during the entire campaign."

most of those from New York, but quiet, peaceable men, willing enough to fight should occasion demand it, but preferring to cultivate their fields or attend to their other business if not interfered with. They are not filibusters in the usual sense of that word, but simply emigrants, worthy descendants or imitators of those who penetrated the dense forests of the West and the plains of Texas, and whose energy and industry made our country what it is. And so they will do with yours, should no untoward event occur to check the tide of emigration. Our government may for a little time prevent the progress of Nicaragua by refusing to recognize its present rulers, but the good sense of the people will compel a recognition, or hurl them from power, and in the meantime the progress of colonization will go on so rapidly that your State will soon be in a condition to treat with indifference the friendship or enmity of Franklin Pierce and his cabinet.

Give us all the light you can upon matters down your way, and send to the emigrants the information they require. Such a person is much needed here and will do much good to your beautiful country.

MEXICO—HER DESTINY.—The New York Times thinks that if Aaron Burr, who was ambitious to rule Mexico, had had but the opportunities of placing himself at the head of the Mexican revolutions which have occurred during the past thirty years, he would have made Mexico one of the great powers of the earth. But a different destiny awaits her. We extract: "It is not a very wild dream to imagine that there are those among us already come to man's estate, who will live to see the whole of the Mexican confederacy absorbed into our confederacy; and the time will not be far off when that wild prediction of Senator Douglas will be fulfilled, and our republic will be fulfilled, and our republic will be ocean bound, and all the 'red lines' which the over sanguine Senator complained of will be expunged from the map of the American continent."

TURKEY.—The Society for the propagation of the Gospel has already opened a fund for the erection of a church in Turkey; and in the meantime, acting under the sanction of its President, the Archbishop of Canterbury, has resolved to send out, with all convenient despatch, two chaplains for the especial benefit of the English sailors, shipping agents, storekeepers, and other temporary residents in Constantinople, and the neighborhood.

A SUGGESTION.—It is stated that the President will recommend in his message the purchase of the rights of the Hudson Bay Company on the north-west coast of the continent. These rights and possessions are exercised and held within the territory of Oregon, a large portion of which formerly belonged to the Old Pacific Fur Company.

¶ An exchange paper notices a knitting machine on exhibition in New York. It knits silk, linen, cotton or wool equally well, and makes 1400 stitches per minute. One man can easily knit one hundred legs of half hose per day. It is said to be almost as important machine as that for sewing.

¶ Green, the reformed gambler, who spent some years in lecturing about the Atlantic States, we see from an exchange paper, is erecting a flouring mill at Covington, Ky., and is also preparing to manufacture a new kind of oscillating engine, the same that attracted so much attention at the French Exhibition.

1670. It was quiet enough at the time of our visit, but has since—within the last eighteen months—again broken out. Vast clouds of smoke now rise from it, which at night glow with the light of the fierce fires that burn at the bottom of the crater; and it is not unlikely that the volcano may soon come to regain the celebrity which it enjoyed for many years after the conquest, during which time it was in a state of constant eruption, and was called El Inferno de Masaya—"The Hell of Masaya."

The old chronicler Oveida has left us a detailed and interesting account of it, as it was at the time of his visit in 1529. He says he had visited Vesuvius and Etna, and enumerates many other volcanoes, "but it seems to me," he continues, "that none of those volcanoes are to be compared to that of Masaya, which, as I have said, I have seen and examined for myself. I will now relate what I saw. It was about the middle of the night of July 25th, 1529, that we left the house of Machucha, and by sunrise we had nearly reached the summit. The night was very dark, in consequence of which the flame of the mountain appeared exceedingly brilliant. I have heard persons worthy of credit say that when the night is very dark and rainy, the light from the crater is so vivid that one may see to read at the distance of half a league; but this I will neither affirm nor deny, for at Granada, where there is no moon, the whole country is illuminated by the flame of the volcano; and it is a fact that it can be seen at a distance of sixteen or twenty leagues, for I have seen it at that distance myself. However, we cannot call that which proceeds from the crater a flame, but rather a smoke which is bright as a flame.

"I was accompanied by an Indian caique, whose name was Natatime, who, when we got near the crater, sat down fifteen or twenty paces off, and pointed to the frightful orifice. The summit of the mountain forms a plain, covered with red, yellow, and black rocks, spotted with divers colors. The orifice is so broad that, in my opinion, a musket ball could not traverse it. The depth, to the best of my judgment is about one hundred and thirty fathoms; and although it was difficult to see the bottom of the crater for the thick smoke and vapors, yet I could discern there a place perfectly round, and large enough to contain a hundred cavaliers, who could play at fencing and have more than a thousand spectators. It would hold even more than that number were it not for still another deeper crater in the middle of it.—At the bottom of this second crater I beheld a fire, which was as liquid as water, and of the color of brass. From time to time this molten matter rose in the air, with a prodigious force, hurling great masses to the height of many feet, as it appeared to me. Sometimes these were arrested on the sides of the crater, and remained there, before becoming extinguished, time enough to repeat the credo six times. After they had cooled, they resembled the scoria of a forge.

RECEIPT FOR MAKING BICE BREAD.—One and a half pounds of rice put in a galon of water and stirred till it becomes soft, then mix it (while warm) with four or pounds of flour, at the same time add a tea spoonful of salt and the usual quantity of yeast. Let it stand to rise, then make it in to loaves and bake it the usual way. We have found the above quantity of flour and rice to make us twenty-eight pounds of excellent bread, and independent of the great saving, we like it better than bread baked in the usual way.

ed those imperishable structures of art in Italy and England, which will live to the end of time? Adventurers, (or filibusters as they are now designated,) From whom boasts the crowned heads of Europe and the proud aristocracy of Albion their lineage but from filibustering Norman and Celt. When came in vogue the fashion of abusing adventurers of worthy and honorable intent—from whence does it date? No farther back than the holy alliance, that beautiful article, fabricated by John Bull and his colleague the treacherous Venetian.

Europe was ready and willing to recognize any government established by adventurers (as all her governments were established by such) until lately; when the imbecile tottering crowned heads saw fit to array themselves against popular will, and by treacherous and unholy alliances, pledged to support each other in crushing the free will of an adventurous people. Who fought for and gained American independence but adventurers? What is France in Burgundy and Brittany but an adventurer. What is England in the East? An adventurer. So it is in the principle nations of Europe, particularly where the arts and sciences flourish, you will find there the descendants of adventurers. I of Nicaragua am but a representative of the filibusters of the past.

A SPECULATION.—Of the 2,700,000 acres of land granted by the State to aid in the construction of the Illinois Central Railroad, over 2,000,000 acres yet remain unsold. Taking the sales made since the land office of the company opened in this city, as a test, the fund realized from the land alone will not fall far short of $45,000,000. It is now thought that the road completed and fully equipped, will be clear profit to the company, to say nothing of the $20,000,000 to be piled up in their treasury. Under the stimulus of the times, this great work promises to be the most successful speculation of the age.—Chicago Tribune.

"NICARAGUA INDEPENDIENTE."

SUSPENSION OF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES.

The last mail brought official information from our Minister at Washington, Mr. P. H. French, of a fact of which our readers were two weeks since informed through the public newspapers, namely: the refusal of Mr. Marcy to receive Mr. French in his diplomatic capacity, and the extraordinary grounds upon which the refusal was based. In a brief note, which may be taken as a model of ministerial ignorance, official rudeness, and reckless violation of public law and international usages, Mr. Marcy asserts that the revolution lately effected in this State was the work of foreigners; and expresses himself incredulous that the people, or any considerable portion of any party, have given their assent to the Government of those claiming to exercise political authority in this State. As to Mr. Marcy's ignorance we have nothing to say. We have no means of knowing how long it takes knowledge, of which all the rest of the world is possessed, to find its way into the State Department; nor to what extent the attention of a Minister of State, specially charged with the foreign relations of his government, may be pre-occupied with the affairs of party at home, to the exclusion of information from abroad. It may be that the urbane Secretary of State has had so much to do with Hards and Softs, Know Nothings, Black Republicans and the spoils, that he has never heard of the two years war which has lately prevailed between the Liberals and Serviles of Nicaragua; of the nine months siege of Granada by Jerez, with an army at one time amounting to two thousand men; of the invitation extended to American Democrats by the accomplished and lamented Castillon; of the acceptance of the offer by Gen. Walker; of his arrival with fifty six men; of the little army entrusted to him by Castillon, in which the native force was never less than three to one of the Americans, who were themselves also citizens of Nicaragua by our President asserts, as he may do with truth, and therefore with more propriety than the Secretary, that Mr. Marcy misrepresents the people of the United States.—Such are the consequences, when a man in so responsible a position is misled by a morose and fractious disposition into a forgetfulness of ordinary official courtesy, and of the long established diplomatic usages of all civilized countries, and especially of the uniform precedents of his own government.

We cannot conclude without an expression of our regret at the position into which, without fault of his own, Mr. Wheeler has been brought. The course of this gentleman has won for him honor, which no fault of his superiors can obscure. By his firmness and sagacity, and fearless of the mutterings and frown of the State Department, he has done for his country more than all the rest of its diplomatic corps combined have effected under the administration of Mr. Pierce. At the same time, by his uniform politeness, unaffected kindness, and unstinted hospitality he has endeared himself to all, whether foreign born or native to the soil.

VOLUNTEER MILITARY COMPANY.—The Americans at Virgin Bay have formed a volunteer military company consisting of forty members. At a meeting on the 24th inst. an organization was effected and the following officers elected: Captain, George McMurray; First Lieutenant, William Mills; Second Lieutenant, William Griffith; First Sargeant, W. G. Haynes; Second Sargeant, J. Romain; Third Sargeant, W. Lee; First Corporal, S. Clemenson; Second Corporal, Thos. J. Mullone; Third Corporal, H. Wagner; and Physician, Samuel Wales.

WINES & Co.'s EXPRESS.—The above Express, the only convenience outside of the Government, in this country for the transportation of letters, will dispatch a mail bag by the steamers of the first of next month, on or about the 31st of January.—Letters and packages handed in on the night of the 31st will be duly forwarded by the agent in this city. Persons desiring to correspond with San Francisco, New Orleans or New York, can have their letters forwarded.

CONVICTION OF MURDER.—A Court Martial was convened on Monday, the 18th inst., for the trial of John Williams, private

MINISTERIAL CRISIS IN WASHINGTON.

Mr. Marcoleta, it seems, was received as the Nicaraguan Minister on the first of January, at the White House in Washington! Can any one tell us where his government is? To whom does he send his despatches? from whom receive his instructions?

Mr. Marcoleta has evidently felt himself pressed by these questions, which must have come unbidden to mar the pleasures of the occasion. Like a prudent man, therefore, he has invented a government, cabinet, army, &c., and located them at the ancient city of Segovia, in which neighborhood, doubtless, the conflicts occurred in which Gen. Walker was twice repulsed and the brave old Chillon slain.

Well, this will do for a while. For one steamer it may serve the necessities of Mr. Marcoleta's personal situation and of Mr. Marcy's diplomacy—but what then? The illusion wont last—the fabric will fall. Poor Mr. Marcoleta will find his credit for diplomatic dinners and official receptions but the more damaged by the desperate expedient, and Mr. Marcy will obtain no relief from his Central American perplexities.

From the President's Message, we perceive that a most important treaty between Nicaragua and the U. States has been laid before the Senate. This Treaty was negotiated by Mr. Wheeler with two Commissioners appointed by Estrada, and as it secures to American citizens the greatest advantages, will doubtless be approved by the Senate. With whom, then, shall ratifications be exchanged? With Mr. Marcoleta's imaginary government of Estrada, at Segovia, or the repudiated government of Rivas, at Granada? This is a grave question, and Mr. Marcy should be held responsible, if by his amiable and adroit manouvering, he succeeds in depriving the American people of the benefits of this Treaty. He need not turn to Mr. French for relief. Mr. French has been recalled, and it is not probable that any one else will be soon exposed to the indignities, which, through him, have been heaped upon Nicaragua. The Treaty should be published, that by the extent of their loss the people of the U. States may judge of Mr. Marcy's diplomatic skill.

That our readers here and elsewhere may appreciate the strong affection with which Mr. Marcy adheres to the late Estrada government as now received by Mr. Mar-

A WORD WITH THE ARMY.

Posterity has stained the name of Cortes because impartial history related the outrages committed by the men engaged with him in the acquisition of Mexico. They rudely suppressed the institutions of an ignorant people, ignoring all except by example. They revolutionised by violence, and history has immortalized their evil acts. The disorderly lesson thus taught the conquered race has produced a succession of revolutions. The evil example set by the Spaniard has produced its baneful fruits, poisoning the nations: what shall history say of us?

The biographer of the present enterprise must write the truth, and if you cheerful aught of respect for the friendship of succeeding generations, the moral reputation of the army will be maintained. The voice and pen of slander have found no ground for utterance thus far, for the self-respect of the Americans has preserved the enterprise from all appearance of wrong.

The truthful nature of the volunteer revolts at the perpetration of injustice, particularly on the defenseless; and when the disorderly spirit breaks out in a few exceptional cases, the frowning faces of the citizen soldiers soon admonishes the culprit that he can commit no wrong with impunity. The reputation of all is at stake—a quarter of a million of people are sitting in judgment on the Americans, and if our conduct ensures their favorable report, we are to be received with open arms in all Central America. Libels have been industriously circulated against the American name, and the present revolution must affirm or deny their verity. So far, we have sustained a noble defence—the record of our history stands unimpeached before the impartial chroniclers.

Why should it not be? The moral of the army is excellent—the energy of the War Department allows the men to want for nothing—sumptuous rations and a bountiful supply of clothing—good wages, payable in land or money, when the government is more thoroughly re-modeled and the public surveys are perfected—a weekly bounty of tobacco and money—a claim to two hundred acres of land at the expiration of their enlistment—superior quarters—but little duty and less care—what more could be asked? We are happy to know, from personal observation, that the men ask for nothing further, unless it be active service. Some of

OBITUARY.

At half past ten o'clock this morning, CHARLES T. CUTTER, the pioneer of American journalism in Nicaragua, after a short but severe illness, closed his eyes in death. The perseverance of his medical adviser nor the kind attention of friends, could stay the fearful rapidity of the destroying disease; but sure and steady as the seige of a great citadel, the curtains of the grave were drawn around his bed, when the convulsion came and the open eyes were closed in darkness, and the mortal structure rested from its wearisome travail. His funeral took place at 5 P.M., under the direction of Capt. Morris, officer of the day. The deceased was a single man, aged about thirty years.

DIED.—At her residence on Wednesday night, at 3 o'clock, MARY C., wife of Capt. JOHN W. RIDER, after a short illness, aged 26 years. She was a native of Albany, New York, and leaves in sad bereavement a husband and infant son. The deceased was much esteemed in life, affording a cheerful and happy smile to all who came within the circle of her acquaintance; and in her sickness every attention was paid to her wants. The funeral was attended on Thursday morning by the members of Company G.

THEATRICAL ITEM.—Business and pleasure follow the American people wherever they may make their stand. The first item in the creed of our countrymen is trade and business, after which comes a desire for relaxation. The money made in business must be lavished in the pursuit of what unbends the mind from its fixed character; and when the sober look of thoughtful negotiation or study breaks away in jocund laughter, the time for sport has come. We must be gay, and whenever the race stands still, food for these two elements must be furnished. In Granada, we have but few means of amusement, as yet, but what we have are improving. The claims of the aguadiente shops are gradually loosing hold, and the boys ask now for a fandango or a cock-fight. The lively sounds of music echo in all quarters of the city, at night, and dancing parties are coming into vogue quite fast. Two or three every week afford scenes of enjoyment, and the behavior of all hands has been exceedingly gratifying. No breaches of the peace—no disorder or drunkenness—but a quiet observance of the respect due to the natives and to themselves, has been the rule of conduct. The natives have their own dances, and they are allowed to go on unmolested. But we have pleasure in announcing the possibility that a theatrical company will soon be started in this city by a party of amateur performers, assisted by three or four old stagers. We have several well known actors in the city, adoption; nor of the murderous fight at Rivas; nor of the battle and victory of La Virgen; nor the brilliant movement by which in conjunction Valle and Lusaraja, and other gallant native democrats, he surprised and took Granada and restored peace, which for three months has remained unbroken throughout Nicaragua, and unthreatened, unless by Mr. Marcy and his confederates, foreign refugees, and political speculators at Washington.

Mr. Marcy's ignorance, we repeat, is none of our business, even if he still thinks Nicaragua in South America, as he once said to a distinguished gentleman of our acquaintance. But when he undertakes to question the validity of a foreign government, and to express an opinion upon its relations to its own citizens, he deserves a rebuke, and he has gotten it, as will be seen from the following decree of President Rivas, and letter of Don Fermin Ferrer to the Hon. J. H. Wheeler:

The Provisional President of the Republic of Nicaragua to its Inhabitants.

Knowing with certainty that the Government of the United States, in opposition to the public opinion of that nation, declines to recognise the present administration of Nicaragua, and refuses to enter into relations with the Hon. P. H. French, its present accredited Minister near that Cabinet; in use of its powers

DECREE:

ARTICLE 1. All official communication with the Hon. J. H. Wheeler, Minister of the Government of the United States, residing in this Republic, is suspended.

ARTICLE 2. All the powers conferred upon Col. P. H. French, as Minister Plenipotentiary near that nation, are revoked.

ARTICLE 3. Let this decree be communicated to whom it may concern, and to the said Col. P. H. French, that he may return to this Capital to give an account of his mission.

Given in Granada, the 22d day of the month of January, 1856.

PATRICIO RIVAS.

To the Minister General, the Licentiate DON FERMIN FERRER.

To the Hon. J. H. Wheeler, Resident Minister of the United States in Nicaragua.

Sir:—My government being well convinced that the present Cabinet at Washington, contrary to the popular wish of that nation, refuses its recognition, it becomes incumbent upon me to notify you that the powers conferred on Mr. P. H. French, the present Minister of Nicaragua, near the United States, have been this day revoked, and that he has been commanded to return to this city. At the same time I have to communicate to you in the name of my government, that in consideration of the aforesaid conduct of the government which you represent, all communication with you in the character of a Minister resident of the United States is from this day forward suspended.

I have the honor to offer you the assurance of my highest consideration.

FERRER.

Here is a Roland for an Oliver. Mr. Marcy questions whether our President respects the people of Nicaragua; and in Co. D., of the Rifle Battalion, charged with killing Thomas Ellsworth, a private in the same company. After a patient hearing, the Court convicted the prisoner of murder, but with a recommendation to mercy. The matter is at present under the consideration of the Commander-in-Chief. The defence was ably conducted by Col. J. H. Harper.

FROM COSTA RICA.—By a gentleman who arrived in this city on Thursday, from Costa Rica, we learn that all is quiet at present in that State. The people were somewhat alarmed at first, fearing an inroad from Nicaragua; but they are now reassured that the policy of this State does not necessarily lead into conflict with the neighboring republics of Central America.

REINFORCEMENTS.—Twenty-one recruits arrived in Granada on Tuesday last, from New Orleans, under command of Captain James Linton. The only officers we could obtain the names of were First Lieutenant J. L. Stith and Second Lieutenant Thos. Stackhouse. The company is composed of fine looking men.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.—Under a recent regulation of the army, the soldiers are exempted from being posted on guard in the sun; and a general caution has been issued to the men to avoid bathing, and to keep out of the sun from 10 in the morning to 5 in the afternoon.

DIAMONDS IN NICARAGUA.—A citizen of Granada, represented to us as extremely poor, who recently made a trip to the mines of Juigalpa, returned during the week with a small pile in the shape of a diamond valued at two thousand dollars. He broke it out of the rough stone accidentally with his machette.

ADVANCEMENT IN THE ARMY.—During the past week the following promotions have been made by the Commander in Chief:

Thos. F. Fisher appointed Quarter Master General, with the rank of Colonel.

Francis Mahon appointed Assistant Commissary General with rank of Captain.

D. Lathrop promoted to a First Lieutenant.

H. C. Huston to a First Lieutenancy.

IMPOSSES.—We regret to learn that the American Minister has been indisposed during the first of January, to the position of Captain in the Navy of Nicaragua.

celota's faithful imagination in Segovia, we publish the following order of the Commander-in-Chief Gen. Corral, for whose hard fate so much sympathy has been expressed, extracted from the Order Book which fell into the possession of the democratic party on the taking of Granada.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, HEADQUARTERS, Granada, August 30, 1855.

The General-in-Chief commands me to say to you that for the purpose of rooting out the bandits who have profaned the soil of the Republic, and to give a wholesome example to the foreign adventurers passing across this Isthmus, you cause four heads of the Fillibusters who may be taken in your department to be cut off, fried in oil, and enclosed in iron cages, to be placed on high posts; one in the Port of San Juan del Sur, another at La Virgen, another in Castillo de San Juan, and another in Transit Road, midway between Pueda and La Virgen, causing an inscription to be affixed to each post, saying "Such a one for being a Fillibuster." I communicate this to you for punctual fulfilment, instructing the Governor of the Department, in case of your absence, to see that is strictly complied with.

A pleasant thing it would have been, Mr. Marcy, would it not, for the father or brother of John Smith on the way to San Francisco or New York, to pause at the foot of one of these posts, and looking up at the oil-fried head in the iron cage to read, "John Smith, for being a Fillibuster." Such was the government whose overthrow the Secretary of State of the United States so much laments.

THE AMERICAN MINISTER.—While every citizen of Nicaragua recognises the appropriateness of the action taken by the government in suspending diplomatic relations with the United States government, all deplore the unfortunate position in which it has placed the Hon. J. H. Wheeler. All classes appreciate him as an officer and a gentleman, and on Thursday evening, when it was ascertained what the action of the Government had been, all the different bands of the city proceeded to his residence and gave him a serenade. The national airs of the Union were performed, and a round of cheers administered.

STILL COMING.—The Stockton (Cal.)

Argus, says that Capt. Quay, who has been engaged for some time in raising a company of men in that city, for this State, expected to sail on the steamer of the 5th of February, with about seventy-five men.

IMPOSES.—We regret to learn that the troops ask for marching orders, without reflecting that all is peace, and the General has too much care for the men to expose them to the trials of a journey during the present sickly season. All is doing for the best, and while the present quiet and orderly conduct continues to govern the intercourse of the soldiers with the citizens of Granada, we are perfecting a greater victory than if the red hand of ruinous war subjected the enemies of peace to the decrees of the government. The hearts of the disaffected Serviles are being won to peace and quiet. It is a revolution effected by mental conflict. The soldiers are therefore mighty agents for good, and we desire to impress upon them the necessity of continuing as they have commenced. The reputation of the American name is to be saved from the slanderous defamations of foreign tongues—the respect and confidence of our fellow-citizens in Nicaragua must be acquired—the historian is to be thought of—and our own consciences preserved clear and blameless.

The integrity of the soldier's reputation should therefore be his pride—like his musket it should be ready for inspection whenever the Commander-in-Chief inspects the ranks for a soldier to fill the vacant posts of honor. Evil report runs swiftly, and none can tell when it may rise up to confront us in the way of promotion.

ARTESIAN WELLS.—It cannot be doubted that in a few years the State of Nicaragua will reap incalculable advantages from this improvement of modern science. The plains of Texas, of Alabama, Mississippi, and many other sections of the Union, have been made fresh and beautiful by Artesian Wells, and as Nicaragua is peculiarly designed to be watered in that way, with the introduction of the Americans we may soon expect to see experimenting commenced. As a first step, we hope some steps will be taken to bore a well on the Plaza, which will afford a source of benefit and delight to the city. A well four or five hundred feet would doubtless produce an abundant supply of water, better than any now in use, and would also save to the cities an immense outlay of money and labor. The public squares of Paris have under whose guidance a company might be organized with pride to the army and profit to the projectors. Mr. Carter, of Company

D; Mr. Harris, of Company H, and Mr.

Mooney, of Company C, are all well known and of ability, and they are all ardently enlisted in favor of the establishment of this popular amusement. We hope soon to hear that the scheme has assumed consistency sufficient to allow us to name the day when the fun will commence.

Circular á los Gobiernos de Centro-América.

REPÚBLICA DE NICARAGUA. MINISTERIO DE RELACIONES EXTERIORES.

El Supremo Gobierno Provisorio que actualmente dirige los destinos de Nicaragua cuenta ya en el dia con un firme apoyo para sostener la paz y tranquilidad de sus habitantes sin la posible alteración en el porvenir, y para proteger las libertades públicas conforme á las instituciones de un Gobierno Republicano.

Bajo esta egida, su firme propósito es procurar por medios prudentes y adecuados el progreso y felicidad de todos los nicaragüenses y mantener la buena armonía y fraternidad con todos los Gobiernos centro-americanos, cuya suerte está perfectamente identificada con la de Nicaragua.

Este sincero sentimiento auxiliado por bajo la influencia de una fusión de partidos; y antes reconoció á un Gobierno de bando, y lo que es mas cuales son las conferencias que en varias ocasiones ha tenido con el Coronel Kinny pretendiente colonizador de Mosquitia?—No podrá contestar el Presidente, porque la protección que entonces le ofreció, no fué sino con la mira de anexar Nicaragua á la unión americana para engranecer su administración.

Pero hoy que ve claramente la pretension de los verdaderos campeones de la democracia en Nicaragua, que no corresponde á los fines previstos y deseados por el Gabinete Pierce y Marcy cambia su política engañando á ese pueblo libre que depositó en ellos confianza para su prosperidad.

Quiera el cielo que el pueblo anglo-americano conozca en realidad quien dirige su suerte, y que con la enerjía que lo caracteriza, sepa hacer valer sus derechos.

En la gaceta de Guatemala del viernes 4. del presente mes, en el art. crónica noticias varius, hemos leído la crítica más insulta, necia e infundada: el petulante escritor ó mejor dirímos el injusto murmurador, no solamente bomita su amarga biel contra el Sr. General en Jefe don Guillermo Walker, sino que estiene de su mortal veneno hasta vulnerar la virtud inoclume, la conducta arreglada del inui ilustre Sr. Vicario Capitular y Gobernador de este Obispado Sr. Arcediano don José Hilario Heredia. El insano detractor dice entre otras cosas, que los individuos del Clero que no pertenecen al partido Democrático han sido despojados de sus Curatos, y están espuestos á otras vejaciones; y que el Sr. Presbítero Dr. don Rafael Jerez ha sido nombrado Canónigo sin otro mérito que ser hermano del Sr. General Jerez. Cuando el hombre está poseido del mortal vicio de la murmuración, descarga golpes bruscos y barbaramente, introduce el puñal ciegamente en el corazón de su prójimo sin reparar la fatal herida que hace en la conducta mas acrisolada. El escritor Guatimalteco que atrevido pretende manchar la conducta Eclesiástica del Prelado de Nicaragua, entienda, que el Ilustre Sr. Vicario Heredia no pertenece á partido alguno, y que marchando solamente sobre las huellas de los Apóstoles no tiene mas mira que el bien de la Iglesia. Dos curas son los que ha removido del oficio que les estaba encargado; pero si lo ha hecho habrá sido sin duda por mui justas y graves causas que obran en su conocimiento; y los Párrocos removidos no tienen canónica institución por no haber sido su nombramiento por concurso como previene el Santo Concilio de Trento, sinó que su nombramiento es ina cuya cabeza ha sido puesto por el movimiento liberal un republicano de tan buen temple y tan acreditadas virtudes cívicas como el Sr. Patricio Rivas, ha demostrado desde sus primeros pasos, cuán sabia y profundamente empeñada está en promover y fomentar, por todos los medios posibles, los intereses vitales del pueblo, la seguridad del ciudadano, la propiedad, la paz—en una palabra,—toda la inmensa suma de bienes que un gobierno democrático, bien organizado, puede ofrecer y garantizar á sus gobernados.

Por un decreto expedido por el Poder Ejecutivo de la República, en fecha de 23 de noviembre último, se ofrece á toda persona adulta que deseé ingezar á ella, la merced de 250 acres de tierra (cerca de 8 caballerías) si son solteros, ó la de 350 si casados, dándoseles el lejítimo título de propiedad dentro del término de seis meses. Además se declara libre de derechos la importación de toda clase de efectos introducidos por los emigrantes para objetos de industria, tales como instrumentos de agricultura, muebles utensilios, semillas, plantas, ganado etc. además de declararcéles ciudadanos de la República desde su ingreso en ella, y exentos de toda contribución y servicio extraordinarios.

No vamos que con tales franquicias y alicientes unidos á los grandes atractivos de las inmensas riquezas naturales de aquel país, la emigración á él será en número extraordinario.

Pero el hecho mas lisonjero entre todos los que anuncia esta reforma esencial y material de la República Nicaraguense es la confirmación de una opinión que mucho tiempo hace tenemos expresada, á saber: "que la América será al fin Americana, quiere decir, libre e independiente, desde Groenlaadia hasta el cabo de Hornos, y que las testas coronadas y las hidras de la teocracia, irán á morir en las ruinas de sus tronos y sus grutas, allá en el Viejo Mundo."

Nicaragua por su posición geográfica, con buenos y seguros puertos en el Atlántico y en el Pacífico, es de grande importancia en América, pudiendo convertirse (y se convertirá sin duda bajo un buen gobierno) en depósito de la gran línea comercial entre ambos hemisferios por este lado de los mares.

La República está dividida en cinco Departamentos, con Managua, Segovia, Nicaragua y Granada, de los cuales es capital la ciudad de este nombre. Su población asciende á 250,000 habitantes. El Gobierno es republicano democrático, compuesto de un Senado y una Cámara de Representantes, con un Presidente que se elije cada dos años.

El país abunda en feraces praderas, ricas maderas de construcción, minas de toda clase fértiles aguadas, frutos como los de nuestra Cuba; añadiendo á todas la palabra y manifestó: que sucesos de la mayor importancia habían acontecido últimamente en Nicaragua; sucesos que, en su concepto, eran de la mayor trascendencia para la existencia de todos los Estados de la América Central, por los elementos extraños que se habían introducido en aquella República: elementos que tomaban mayor desarrollo en aquel país, refluyeron directamente contra la nacionalidad del mismo Nicaragua y de los demás Estados de la América Central, que por tanto, creía se estaba en el caso de dictar las providencias mas energicas á este respecto, y pedía que el Sr. Ministro informase sobre las que el Gobierno hubiere dictado para la seguridad de la independencia de la República. El Sr. Ministro del interior tomó la palabra, y después de alabar el celo patriótico que el Sr. Representante Arriola había manifestado en su discurso, dijo: que para informar á la Cámara sobre los puntos indicados por el Sr. preopinante, tomaría las instrucciones correspondientes y que tuviese á bien darle el Exmo. Sr. Presidente de la República, e informaría á este alto cuerpo en la sesión próxima. El Sr. Arriola replicó para que este informe se evacuase á la mayor brevedad, y el mismo Sr. Ministro reiteró su oferta de hacerlo en la sesión próxima; con lo que, no habiendo otro asunto en el despacho, se levantó la presente, siendo las diez de la noche.

COMUNICADO.

El pueblo Norte-Americanano á la faz del mundo es eminentemente liberal; mas si debemos juzgar la conducta politica de su administracion actual, vemos que pugna abiertamente con los sentimientos de sus ciudadanos connaturalizados con los principios de la verdadera Democacia.

Sabiéndose de una manera cierta que el Gobierno de los EE. UU. contra la opinion publica de aquella nacion, niega el reconocimiento de la Administracion actual de Nicaragua, y rehusa entrar en relaciones con el Honorable Sr. P. H. French su actual Ministro acreditado cerca de aquel gabinete; en uso de sus facultades la opinion pública, revela el universal deseo de que se una cordialmente la gran familia centro-americana; se evidencia por la reciente expresion oficial de sus respectivos Gobiernos; y pues que ya sonó la hora en que Centro-américa despertándose de su letargo, manifiesta propensiones de union fraternal, mi Gobierno acoje con gozo inefable estas demostraciones sujeridas por la opinion pública, por que de esta suerte asegura de una manera estable, su cara independencia, su integridad territorial y su respetabilidad en el exterior.

En tal concepto, á nombre de mi Gobierno, tengo el honor de dirijirme al de esa Republica, por el respetable conductor de US., con el objeto de exitarlo, bien para que reciba un Comisionado que se le mande, ó para que acredite una persona cerca de este Gabinete á fin de tratar y concluir dignamente el asunto de union tan vital é interezante para todo Centro-américa.

terinario, y estos son amobiles á la voluntad del Prelado. Por lo que respecta al Sr. Canónigo Dr. don Rafael Jerez, sepa el escritor Guatemalteco que la escala de méritos por donde ha subido este virtuoso Sacerdote á la dignidad que ahora ocupa es la siguiente. Haber recibido el grado de Dr. en-derecho Canónico; haber obtenido de su Excelencia el Illmo. Sr. Dr. don Jorge de Viteri y Ungo los títulos de Examinador Sinodal de este Obispado, de Promotor Fiscal, de Secretario de Cámara y. Gobierno, de Vicario Jenerel auxiliar, de Maestro de Ceremonias de la Santa Iglesia Catedral, de Teniente de Cura del Sagrario que desempeñó por tres años con infatigable zelo, y lo que es mas, este ilustre Eclesiástico, en las diversas ocasiones en que ha sido aflijida por la epidemia la ciudad de Leon, se le ha visto con un desinteres Apostólico consagrarse exclusivamente á administrar los Sacramentos á los enfermos, y á llenarlos de consuelo. Diga ahora el injusto criticon de Guatemala si estos méritos son acreedores mas que á una Canogia. Concluimos manifestandole que limite sus censuras á las cosas profanas; pero que no quiera tocar con su inmunda lengua la conducta de los ungidos de Dios.

NICARAGUA.

Hace pocos dias, llegó á esta ciudad de tránsito para Washington, el Sr. coronel Parker H. French, nombrado Ministro plenipotenciario con poderes extraordinarios, de parte de la Republica de Nicaragua acerca del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos.

Suponemos á nuestros lectores informados de los acontecientos que recientemente han producido un cambio liberal en la administracion de aquella Republica, cambio que, segun la marcha de las cosas, vendrá á dar por ultimo resultado la union de Nicaragua, Guatemala, Honduras, Yucatan, y—bien podemos añadir—Costarica y Mosquitos, (á pesar de la oficial oposicion manifestada por la primera, y la influencia británica en la segunda) bajo una lei fundamental y organica verdaderamente republicana, y bajo las garantias de una Confederacion basada en los cimientos sobre que descansa el Capitolio de Washington.

Esta union aseguraría la paz, el buen gobierno, la prosperidad la Ilustracion y el poder á esos Estados que hasta hoy no han hecho más que despedazarse en intestinas discordias. Esta Confederacion haria que los pueblos conocidos bajo el nombre de America Central, se levantasen sobre el horizonte politico para formar una nueva y brillantissima constelacion en el cielo de la America libre.

La nueva administracion de Nicaragua, estas ventajas un clima templado y saludable, y unos habitantes, de índole pacifica y hospitalaria.

Lástima seria que un país tan bello no pudiese continuar rejido por instrucciones tan benéficas como las que establece su nueva organizacion política. Pero estamos seguros de que los bienes de la Libertad y la Felicidad son demasiado caros para que nuestros hermanos los Nicaraguenses los dejen perder despues de disfrutarlos una vez.

Nosotros les damos de todo corazon la enhorabuena por su gran reforma nacional, como nos la dariamos á nosotros mismos si ya hubieramos conseguido tambien lo que anhelamos hace tan largo tiempo, y que tantos afanes, tantos sacrificios, tantas victimas ha costado y costará todavía á nuestra pobre Cuba!

ARTICULO 2.^o

Aun sin haber pasado la impresión que haya hecho en la imaginación febril de algunos hombres mui susceptibles nuestro artículo editorial del número anterior, emprendemos la tarea del segundo sobre la crisis política en que se haya el país, la cual como hemos dicho, se pretende desfigurar hasta lo infinito por el partido conservador con la mira de que triunfen sus principios. Siendo tal su empeño, queda justificado por el mismo hecho el del partido liberal, defendiendo su causa con la aclaración de los hechos.

Hai en la actualidad una fábrica de artículos que por su tipo y proporciones se conoce qual es su objeto. Ellos encuentran la puerta abierta y se introducen y se hacen lugar en las columnas de algunos periódicos; tienen una conclusión idéntica y un tema contra yankees, como si con agitar una idea, forjar embustes y acumular palabras se hubiese el sagrado deber de un escritor público que consiste en ilustrar las cuestiones presentes para trasmisitirlas á los lectores exentos de todo error.

Los sucesos de Nicaragua son mui críticos, dicen los conservadores que cuando nos amenazaba el poder británico estuvieron aplaudiendo la situación, y á pretesto de los sucesos de Nicaragua, allá van las pretensiones que quieren y necesitan apoyo y protección porque despachadas de fundamento se perderían en su nulidad: surgen los temores de fundirse sus administraciones anti-liberales que demasiado imprudentes para ver y tratar las cosas públicas, apenas les quedará una salida en sus compromisos voluntarios: aparecen intimaciones de parte de otra clase de políticos que tal vez no tienen de comun' con los primeros, mas que el deseo de pasar por hombres previsores y de mucho peso.

Es mui de desecharse que en este embolismo de ideas y encontrados intereses veamos claro, sin que nos fascinen las apariencias. Es conveniente que veamos si de la perspectiva que se nos presenta puede sacarse la consecuencia de lo que cerca de nosotros pasa.

La alarma de Costa Rica que tanto trueno y respira yankees, es la vieja cuestión pendiente del Guanacaste que no habiendo habido nunca un avenimiento posible, estaba reservada al tiempo y al más fuerte en defecto de un Gobierno nacional que la resolviese. El Presidente de Costa Rica da su proclama y grita contra los invasores. El Ilmo. Sr. Llorente hace también lo mismo, mezclándose así medio á medio aquél prelado en la provocación de la guerra á pretesto de yankees en Nicaragua.

sado, diciendo bajo su firma, "que por el convenio de 23 de octubre en Granada se ha fijado para Nicaragua un programa de civilización digno de los jefes que lo firmaron siempre que se sostenga como es de esperarse por la independencia del país, y que confraternizando con los independientes que han hecho triunfar la verdadera causa de Nicaragua, unirán á este fin con ellos sus esfuerzos, sean cuales fueren las personas. ¿Qué es esto? Será que el Sr. Saenz está desengañado de que el General Walker unido á los nicaraguenses sostiene las garantías, la libertad y la independencia? Ni podía ser de otra manera que en tal caso celebraría en su último remitido la esclavitud de sus compatriotas.

Así, poco mas ó menos, son todas las especies que vierte el partido conservador contra sus desafectos, y si en cosas tan secundarias se encuentran á mano documentos con que desmentirlas, ¿qué sería si hubiese una dedicación desinteresada y franca segun manifestamos en nuestro primer artículo, para observar en su verdadero punto de vista la crisis á que hemos llegado, supuesto en yankees se nos quiere tornar lo que tal vez no tiene ya de yankees nada, y si mucho de astuta política?

Esas voces de que en California se persigue á los que hablan español, por el hecho mismo de pertenecer á nuestra raza, son de lo mas infundado que pueda darse, al menos si se tira un cálculo aproximado sobre el incremento que allá toman los establecimientos de españoles, se verá que todavía por el mes de octubre próximo pasado se trataba de edificar una Iglesia católica, para cuya obra, dicen los periódicos, se han levantando numerosas suscripciones, siendo mui razonable que en donde se emprende de tal manera la construcción de un edificio consagrado al culto, deben haber muchos de la misma comunión con propósito de permanecer en el lugar. Ahoia, si las circunstancias agravantes de algunos hechos condenados en toda sociedad permiten que hayan castigos severos, aplicados de este ó el otro modo, las mas veces hasta fuera de las leyes, no es peculiar de un país, es de todos semejante enfermedad. Nosotros aun sin ver la Crónica de California á que nos referimos, habíamos considerado por ese aspecto varios artículos que los buenos conservadores proporcionaron al público en días pasados.

La Crónica de 26 de octubre contiene á este respecto el siguiente párrafo. El republicano de Stockton inserta una carta fechada el 20 de octubre en Hill's Ferry, en la cual se da la noticia de haber sido ahorcados por la muchedumbre tres mexicanos y un alemán. Dice el autor de dicha carta que los ejecutados han merecido el suplicio, pues se les preñó con cien cabezas de ganado que ha-los jóvenes en obsequio de su mejor ilustración.

Cuyo discurso es como sigue.

ILUSTRE RECTOR, SABIOS EXAMINADORES, ESTIMABLES CONCURRENTES.

La débil niebla engendra la violencia de la horrorosa tempestad y del terrible rayo: una pequeña semilla en su desarroyo es quien hace aparecer en los bosques el arbol mas robusto y magestuoso que desafía las furias de tan crueles meteoros. El embrión que en sus primeros días puede ser discipulo con el mas ligero esfuerzo es quien en su asombroso crecimiento se hace el mas notable de todo el reino animal hasta asemejarse á la divinidad y atreverse aun á conocerla por medio del pensamiento que destruye las tinieblas que confundieran al hombre con el bruto; y si las obras del autor de la naturaleza, si las maravillas de ese ser omnipoitente aparecen tan débiles en su origen, qué puede esperarse en las empresas del hombre por mas grandes que nos parecan? semejante idea me ha animado á presentarme hoy ante esta ilustre concurrencia con objeto de dar el primer paso hacia el securdo seno del santuario de la sabiduría.

Desnudo de conocimientos, y rodeado solamente de la ignorancia, no he carecido sin embargo del ardiente deseo que un dia espero me conduzca á la gloria de adquirir algunos conocimientos en los sublimes principios de la Filosofía; y es por esto que hoy me encuentro en la ardua empresa de explicar algunos de ellos ante los respetables maestros que los profesan, y que han tenido la generosidad de procurar inculcarmelos; aunque no con el feliz éxito que su misma jenerosidad deseara, porque en materia tan elevada como esta, la existencia del hombre es un soplo en el que su entendimiento pasa ligeramente casi sin tocar su superficie: pero qué podré decir en el estenso campo de esta ciencia de quien solo el primer golpe de vista ofusca y deprime mi pequeño entendimiento? Diré sin embargo, qué por las rutinantes sendas de la Lógica se perfeccionan las facultades del hombre ennoblecendose con las reglas que le sirven de faro en el hallazgo de la verdad: por las de la mecánica y otras reglas de la Física se surca la superficie del océano con asombrosa rapidez y seguridad, poniéndose de esta manera en mutuo contacto la próspera suerte de las naciones; penetrándose del mismo modo la profundidad de las aguas y de la tierra de donde se sacan los inmensos tesoros que demanda la civilización y el lujo para recreo de la sensibilidad y engrandecimiento del orden social; por la Historia natural el hombre se hace habitante de todo el globo, y conociendo de todos los eslabones que constituyen la cadena de los seres que así como la mujer debe responder á su marido? Tengo yo que conformarme con tu gusto?

La mujer añade: Allí tienes el bote de la sal; y otra vez hasta tu mismo la sopa.

El marido fuera de si coje el plato y lo tira al suelo, y entonces la mujer, sin poder contenerse, grita, se incomoda y dirige á su marido toda especie de palabras duras de oír:—¡Ah! ¡Ah! dice el marido, veo que hai que tomar la tranca y darte un poco en las costillas.

La mujer desconsolada se va á buscar al cura para pedirle su ayuda y sus consejos; este reconoce que muchas veces la mujer tiene la culpa de ese mal trato de que se queja y la dice:—No os habló mi predecesor de un agua maravillosa que tenemos aquí que todo lo cura?

—No, responde la mujer.

—Pues volved dentro de una hora y os daré una poca.

El cura, después que se ha ido, llena un frasquito de agua fresca, le hecha un poco de azúcar y unas cuantas gotas de esencia de rosa para dulcificarla y perfumarla, y después dice á la esposa:—Cuando vuestro marido entre por la noche de la taberna, y que se os figure que está de mal humor, tomad un poquito de esta agua y consevadla en la boca hasta que se calme, y yo os respondo de que se acabarán vuestras disputas.

Así lo hizo, y la casa, antes alborotada, estuvo tan sosegada que los vecinos decían:—En qué consiste que nuestros amigos no disputan mas?

HEBEL.

CHISMOGRAFIA.

La chismografía produce consecuencias tan perniciosas, que no es posible alcanzar el punto á que pueden llegar. La reputación, y hasta la vida, son sus víctimas mas comunes; cuantos inocentes han sucumbido á sus alevosos tiros!

Los hombres todos y principalmente los empleados debieran siempre estar preparados para no ser lijeros en dar crédito á los chismosos, calificando de antemano las personas que se ejercitan en manejar esa arma terrible, que envainada con la adulación e hipocresía, suele hacer mas estragos que si se esgrimiera desnuda, logrando así saciar impunemente la sed de sus emponzonados corazones. En tiempo de transiciones políticas, es cuando por lo regular se usa de ella. Los intereses opuestos de cada partido fulminan á su antojo especies que ataman al Gobierno y sus funcionarios contra el pueblo por una parte, y al pueblo contra el Gobierno y sus funcionarios por otra, llevados de aquella perniciosa máxima de "dividir para mandar." Esto es lo que de ordinario acontece, y lo que sin ningún éxito intentan en Nicaragua los cuatro desatados que por desgracia puede haber entre nosotros esparciendo prende alguna picardigueña y sale con un yo que pierdo, es el suministro de la gracia y preocupación de su ingenio para sus padres.

En la edad juvenil, edad de locuras y calaveradas, oíréis continuamente después de algunas injurias contra el prójimo, dejando á un lado faltas mayores, espresarse sin asomo de vergüenza yo que pierdo? que es el neoplusultra de la viveza.

Pasemos á la edad adulta, edad en la que se debe conocer lo bueno y lo malo con qué gracia no sale de su boca, después de una mala acción sea de robo, asesinato ó otra, yo que pierdo?

Ved al anciano decrepito que tiene vista para mirar solamente á la tierra, como que busca el lugar de su sepultura, salir con un yo que pierdo? porque se le ha hecho ver no debe ensuciarse como tiene de costumbre.

Si de las edades pasamos á las clases de la sociedad, qué dicen el pordiosero y vagamundo que se finjan valetudinarios por cálculo y pereza, apropiándose de lo ageno sin escrupulo alguno, y siempre que se les hecha en cara sus malos instintos? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el hacendado, debiendo vender buen ganado y gordo, cuando nos encaja enfermo y flaco? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el comerciante que nos da gato por liebre? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el artesano y jornalero, que debían esmerarse en cumplir su palabra, en hacer bien y á tiempo lo tratado? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el estudiante que se ocupa mas de sus maldades que de los libros? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el magistrado que no acude á las horas de trabajo, ó aplica mal una lei? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el soldado ocioso, ocupado con sus camaradas en chismes, en lugar de ocuparse de su obligación? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el oficial ignorante de la ordenanza y táctica? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el marino del charco que usa de mas palabras obscenas que buenas? yo que pierdo?

¿Qué el guiris, que sin rubor ni conciencia roba lo que puede? yo que pierdo?

Y si fuéramos clasificando toda la sociedad, que por no hacernos fatídicos lo dejamos, veríamos por todas partes yo que pierdo? Esa panacea universal, ese panquimagogo, ese comodín que todo lo malo hace bueno.

Ya es tiempo desaparecer de nuestro vocabulario esa expresión, óprobio y escándalo de nuestra educación: ponga cada uno su mano en el pecho y conozca lo que le dicta su conciencia que nunca engaña en lo justo é injusto. No se jacte si quiera de hacer mal las cosas fantes democráticos nicaragüenses que están á 200 leguas de distancia, es el reconocimiento del Gobierno del general Cañas en Granada, la cuestión de límites con Honduras, la devolución de la artillería de dicho Estado trasladada á los castillos de San José y Matamoros, y la enorme responsabilidad que pesa sobre la administración guatimalteca, por cualquier aspecto que se la quiera considerar. Aquel Gobierno callando estos incidentes, invita al del Salvador y á los demás de la antigua República lo mismo que hace Costa Rica para salvar, dicen, la independencia á pretexto de yankees en Nicaragua.

Demostrado como está que la crisis actual abraza tantísimas cuestiones, las mas de ellas domésticas de Centro América, nada es mas natural que seguir el juicio del patriotismo, el cual dando cuarentena á las fanfarronadas y á la palabrería resuelve no ser la cuestión de norte-americanos en Nicaragua la que propiamente se quiere defender, sino los intereses y el color político de un partido contrario que bastante apegado á su historia de absorciones, de retroceso y de sangre, teme descender á la nulidad, cargando con la execración de Centro-América.

En tal concepto, ¿qué valor pueden tener tantísimas interpretaciones inexactas, y denuncias falsas que publica cada día la prensa conservadora para inducirnos á adoptar medidas extremas y avivar sentimientos de horror contra los yankees? Es bueno atenernos á la realidad antes que obrar sin criterio, y si por desgracia hemos podido deslumbrarnos á vista de ligeras sugerencias, oigamos con atención á otras personas que nos suministran mejores datos. A este respecto está muy reciente la declaración caballerosa del Sr. Ldo. don Guadalupe Saenz, hijo de Nicaragua que recide en California y es sujeto que escribió contra la decantada invasión de Walker á Centro América. La Gaceta de Cojutepeque de la semana anterior, inserta un párrafo firmado CHAS E. PICKETT que hace parte de un remitido del Sr. Saenz á la Crónica de San Francisco, cuyo periódico que en su segundo renglón de encabezamiento dice ser órgano de la población española de aquel país tenemos á la vista y corresponde al 25 de octubre. Quién no habrá leído sin alarmarse que allí se dice que la esclavitud debe seguir al triunfo de Walker en la América Central? Y sin embargo, el mismo Sr. Saenz que confiesa haber tomado esas noticias en Guatemala, y que por el mes de octubre todavía creía en semejante suposición, en noviembre para deshacer sus conceptos y manifestar hallárselo tranquilo vuelve á escribir para la Crónica el artículo que se vé en este número escrito del Nicara-

En la línea de otros hechos de alta trascendencia para Centro-américa se encuentran algunos que si no recapitulamos ahora, no dejará de ser indispensable su demostración después. Tal es el asunto de San Juan del Norte, ocupado militarmente y á perpetuidad por los ingleses, y venido, con el derecho de tal ocupación como se verá en el documento que en otro lugar copiamos del Boletín de Costa Rica. Porque esos escritores energúmenos conservadores y de impulsos tan patrióticos nada dicen relativo á esa ocupación y venta inglesa de un territorio centro-americano?

— Ah patriotismo tan patente!

Pero ya lo comprendemos. Los serviles destruyeron la Federación y fraccionaron á Centro-América implorando la asistencia de Chatfield, y para ser consecuentes deben hacer silencio sobre la política inglesa. Y es observando esta conducta que Guatemala y Costa Rica hoy invocan la unión de los Estados para defender la independencia nacional? Y es en esos dos países donde se alza la voz de venganza contra los demócratas de Nicaragua por la ejecución de los reos Mayorga y Corral cuando Costa Rica lleva la fea nota de haber fusilado, no obstante su justificativa declaración de ser inocente, al BENEMERITO MORAZAN, y ha dejado pasar el hecho — tentatorio de los granadinos legitimistas de haber arrancado seis demócratas leoneses del territorio costarricense para pasárselas por las armas sin los auxilios de la religión, pero ni aun banquito en la plaza de Rivas? Y es la administración guatimalteca la que teme por la suerte de la sociedad con la permanencia de los que llama peligrosos en el país cuando á don Juan Lopez se le unieron criminales sacados de las cárceles para que con ellos armados invadiese á Honduras que hace parte de esa misma sociedad?

He ahí los manejos de los serviles de Centro-América que piensan poder preponer. Afortunadamente, como hemos dicho otra vez, llega la crisis: suena la hora, Triunfa el partido democrático y su triunfo es la salvaguardia de la independencia y el afianzamiento de los derechos del pueblo y la libertad.

UNIVERSIDAD DE LEÓN.

El dia 1.º del mes corriente el joven Camilo Gutierrez hijo del departamento de Nueva Segovia se graduó en Filosofía, y su examen lucido que llamó la atención, y atrajo el afecto de los hombres ilustres de aquella Universidad, dan derecho al graduado para que nosotros consignemos su elogio en este periódico, y que insertemos á continuacion el discurso que pronuncio antes del examen, discurso que tiene su mérito principal en haberlo él mismo escrito á presencia del Rector que está dispuesto que así lo verifiquen todos pueblan la tierra, desde la materia bruta hasta el mismo ser inteligente que con anciedad la estudia: la Geografía, y la moral hace patentizar no solo las diferentes localidades de la esfera terrestre; sino también la diversidad de sus pobladores respeto á sus propiedades corporales, usos, costumbres, gobiernos y religiones; dandnos la última las reglas mas exactas para la felicidad de los individuos y de la especie: por el uso de la aerostática el hombre sin alas se lanza á regiones donde nunca ha podido ni podrá llegar el Aguila: por el conocimiento de la Electricidad se ocasiona y enfrena el rayo: mediante la Astronomía se comprende el corriente del orden admirable de los astros en su marcha magestuosa por el dilatado espacio de los cielos; y en fin la Metafísica ademas de llevarnos al olimpo de un nuevo mundo de seres que atraen toda nuestra atención, nos hace descubrir el mas bello que escojitar pudiera la inteligencia, cual es el ser por esencia, el hacedor supremo, el infinito.

La vida del hombre, ni de las naciones ha sido bastante para desarrostrar los profundos secretos de la inmensa ciencia acerca de la cual se va á tratar, y de quien cuanto se dijera para elogiarla no seria suficiente, supuesto que ella es un rayo de la infinita sabiduría; y siendo este acto uno de los que deberán formar época en la historia de mis días, permítaseme dedicarlo al autor de mi existencia que descansa en las mansiones de la eternidad, á mi amado padre José Antonio Gutierrez, en testimonio de mi profundo amor, respeto y reconocimiento.

Objeto querido!! por un momento levántese de la tumba vuestra imagen palida y serena, y tu espíritu abandone un instante el seno de la divinidad que ocupa para recibir el pequeño tributo que te ofrezco mi afecto al consagrarte este primer fruto que procure recojer en el esbelto y grandioso campo de las ciencias, entre tanto que ella me prediga los dulces consuelos en que abunda para mitigar el dolor que siente mi corazón por tu pérdida, y que renaciendo en estos momentos no me permite hablar mas de lo que

He dicho.

UN REMEDIO CONTRA LA IRA.

En una aldea de Alemania vivía en otros tiempos un matrimonio que no se quería mal pero que siempre estaba en guerra abierta. A la primera palabra un poco agria, venía una contestación propiamente una injuria y tras de la injuria los porrazos. El marido decía á la mujer: Esta sopa está sosa, y hace veinte días que te lo estoy diciendo.

La mujer respondió: — Para mi tiene bastante sal.

El marido encolerizado exclama: — Es

rumores de desconfianza sin salir garantes de la veracidad de sus dichos. Esta conducta han adoptado en algunos periódicos de las vecinas Repúblicas; por qué á la verdad es el medio mas fácil de hacer imputaciones sin responsabilidad. Pero no vemos libre de ella, á un Presidente, proclamando á su pueblo, de la manera mas insultante para que se prepare contra el filibusterismo que dice existe en Nicaragua dispuesto á irle á arrebatar su independencia, sus propiedades, su religión costumbres &c; ni á un ilustrísimo Obispo publicando una pastoral, que mas parece producción de un Jeneral en campaña en tiempo de las Cruzadas, que la dulce voz de un pastor encargado de apacientar ovejas.

No nos esforzamos en poner en claro la mira que en esto pueden llevar esos personajes: si no la tubieren y fuesen puras equivocaciones suyas, el tiempo los irá desengaño, y entonces llegará el dia en que se arrepientan, si es que son tan buenos cristianos como parecen.

YO QUE PIERDO?

En vano se esfuerzan los hombres en improvisar teorías impracticables por absurdas, mientras dejan al pueblo aislado á sus anchas sin darle la educación civil y religiosa tan necesarias en la sociedad, para que conozca las obligaciones y deberes de este mundo y para con el criador.

Todos convienen, excepto los materialistas, que el hombre es un conjunto de espíritu y materia, y de las necesidades que satisfacer; y de todas ellas las materiales no son por cierto las más grandes e indispensables de la humanidad.

Por lo tanto, trátese de moralizar el pueblo dándosele educación propia, buenos ejemplos teóricos y prácticos coavenciéndole, sin dar entrada en su pecho á absurdidades y supersticiones tan perjudiciales para si propio, como para la sociedad en que vive: entonces se verá algo mas de orden, moralidad y bienestar. En lo demás no es de extrañar diga y practique lo que siente en su corazón: la incredulidad y la falsa ciencia me han engañado, seducido: la materia me esclaviza; si fuese rico tendría honores y gozaría de todas las delicias del mundo; sin fortuna soy un pobre, un miserable, un nada.

Cuando llega el caso de poner en acción tanto en palabras como en obras la máxima expresada que buenas resultados se pueden esperar?

Es una declaración continua de guerra de individuo á individuo, y del individuo á la sociedad.

Tales son las reflexiones que nos ha sugerido el encabezamiento de este artículo: yo que pierdo tan repetido por el mío que ignora aun el sentido de las palabras que pronunció, cuando se le re-ya que no quiere hacerlas bien.

Y si buenamente no quiere, caigan en él los castigos que le amenazan las leyes para que se corrija, y si estas son ineficaces, haré alianza con el bando de yo que pierdo? me pondré á su vanguardia para hacerle conocer mejor sus derechos: les diré de corazón. Vosotros no perdeis nada con no cumplir vuestras obligaciones, con insultar, robar y asesinar, sino os castigan, antes bien ganais en que haya impunidad.
